How to reach the “Neuenheimer Feld”

Because of the limited number of parking areas in the Neuenheimer Feld, it is recommended to arrive by public transport.

By Tramway:

Take the north exit (Kurfürstenanlage) of the central station to the tram stop. Take tram number 24 with terminus "Handschuhsheim Nord", or tram number 21 with terminus "Hans-Thoma-Platz". With both lines, leave at stop "Jahnstraße" (right after the Neckar bridge). Cross the street to the left and walk into „Jahnstrasse“. Follow that street until you reach the gate on the left. Pass the gate and walk into „Kirschnerstrasse“. About 100 meters down the road you will see the DKFZ main entrance on your right.

By Bus:

The bus stop is located next to the tram stop. Take Bus number 32 to "Neuenheimer Feld - Kopfklinik" or number 20 to "Neuenheimer Feld – Sportzentrum Nord" and get off at stop "Kirschnerstrasse". About 100 meters down the road you will see the DKFZ main entrance on your right.

Walk:

As the German Cancer Research Center is located only about 1.5 km from the Central Station, one may even walk (15-20 minutes). Upon exiting central station, head north and cross the „Kurfürsten-Anlage“ (large 4-lane-street). Walk north along the „Mittermaierstrasse“ crossing the Neckar River. Right after the bridge, make a left into „Jahnstrasse“. Follow that street until you reach the gate on the left. Pass the gate and walk into „Kirschnerstrasse“. About 100 meters down the road you will see the DKFZ main entrance to your right.

By car:

The public parking P25 is located about 10 min walk from DKFZ. Click here for further information.

Attention: If you are using a navigation device, please enter "Kirschnerstraße" as the destination address. When you reach Kirschnerstraße, drive to the blue and white DKFZ flags, which are located directly in front of the main DKFZ building. There is no parking at the main building of the DKFZ.
